Ingredients:

Ginger root extract – a compound contained in ginger, called gingerol, improves the nourishment and oxidisation of cells. Due to its properties such as warming up and improving microcirculation, it increases natural skin oxidisation. Additionally, it enhances metabolism, which is also good for the look and nourishment of the skin.

Guarana – is called the “elixir of youth”, as this is what it was called by people who have been living for centuries in the Amazon Basin. An Indian legend has it that guarana – called god's gift – grew out of soil. Guarana kernels' contain caffeine (up to 6%) and vitamin B3 – ingredients with invigorating properties, which also reduce swelling and enhance removal of toxins from the skin. Due to these properties, especially beneficial for our bodies, guarana extract improves blood circulation and reduces symptoms of fatigue and dark circles around the eyes. The unique colour of the cream comes from this plant.

HA Peptide – gives an impulse for skin cells to stimulate their youthful activity. A combination of microcollagen and hyaluronic acid, it effectively smooths wrinkles and improves the skin's firmness and structure.

D-panthenol – vitamin B5 is a natural component of our skin and hair necessary for their proper functioning. D-panthenol used in the cream is called provitamin B5. It penetrates deep skin layers, reduces loss of water through the epidermis and moisturises effectively. It enhances the skin's lipid barrier. It soothes and regenerates the skin.

Shea butter – is a natural sun filter. It also perfectly nourishes, moisturises and smoothens the skin.
